

Performing Arts Instructor

Pyramid Tampa is seeking an instructor to teach singing, dance and /or drama to adults with developmental disabilities. The emphasis is on vocal instruction. For the right person, this will be an extremely rewarding job. Pyramid performers are committed to their craft and have attracted admiring audiences who appreciate their talent, entertainment value and professionalism.

The job is 37.5 hours per week, $8.55 an hour, more depending on experience, with full benefits including group health insurance. Opportunity for salary and professional growth.

The person we seek must be able to teach at least one performance skill at a high level and teach a range of performance — particularly vocal — skills at the basic level, must be comfortable with people who are disabled and willing to assist with personal care duties. Pyramid Tampa is a drug-free employer, complies with EEOC and requires a valid Florida drivers' license, safe driving record and a clean law-enforcement record.

Pyramid Tampa is an Adult Day Training Center that builds its programs around the performing and visual arts. Its arts program is unique, and has attracted attention throughout Florida and beyond.
